II. OTHER ACTIVITIES

Priday. I outlined for him some of the programs SIC  conducts in addition to the JOT course, and then we discussed in detail the entire JOT schedule - explaining the changes we had in- troduced, discussing the exams and problems, and reviewing the proposed reading assignments. His reaction was quite passive at this stage. He did draw upon his teaching experience to provide us with some useful suggestions as to how we might arrange and conduct the seminars, but not very much was forthcoming on any of the substantive problems at hand. According to for whom faculty sponsor at Syracuse; teaches only Soviet foreign policy and the Soviet government (in a course on Comparative Government). Our impression is that he is not really very knowledgeable in most of the areas we cover. This may be unjust and we'll have another chance to judge on 29 April when he is going to meet with the Staff to present any ideas he may have developed. We gave him copies of the schedule and the reading assignments to mull over during the intervening twe weeks.  I'm not sanguime, however, that much will come out of the next meeting.  2. impressions of the confirm except that felt that he was a very difficult case - inflexible, unbending, unwilling to concede to any local inserious customs or practices. He still acts like a local hig-shot at home. This proved to be rather upsetting at one point.  25X1  25X1	Friday. I outlined for him some of the programs SIC
